

Emerson Conflict Minerals Statement

Emerson supports all efforts to end the human suffering and environmental impact that has been associated with mining in the Democratic Republic of Congo and adjoining countries as well as in the other conflict affected and high-risk areas. Emerson is committed to meeting all legislative and regulatory requirements that seek to eradicate this suffering.

Tracing the origin and chain of custody of minerals throughout a global supply chain is a complex process. This can only be accomplished with the cooperation and support of a vast number of industries and public and private stakeholders. Emerson continues to work aggressively with its suppliers, industry groups and other stakeholders to develop and implement policies and systems to reduce the risk that minerals in our supply chain come from mines that finance or benefit armed groups in the DRC region and the other conflict affected and high-risk areas. To this end, Emerson expects its suppliers and their suppliers to acquire minerals only from responsible sources.

You can access the latest Specialized Disclosure Report for conflict minerals in the Emerson website. For any inquiry, please contact conflict.minerals@emerson.com.